Item 8.01. Other Events.

On September 6, 2023, T-Mobile US, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the “Company”), announced that its Board of Directors (the “Board”) has authorized a shareholder return program of up to $19.0 billion that will run through December 31, 2024 (the “Shareholder Return Program”). The Shareholder Return Program is expected to consist of additional repurchases of shares of the Company’s common stock, par value $0.00001 per share, and payment of cash dividends. The Company intends to declare and pay its first dividend of approximately $750 million in the fourth quarter of 2023 and then to pay approximately $3.0 billion in total additional dividends in 2024, with payments occurring each quarter during the year. The dividend amount paid per share is expected to grow by around 10% annually. The amount available under the Shareholder Return Program for share repurchases will be reduced by the amount of any cash dividends declared and paid by the Company.

Deutsche Telekom AG (“DT”) does not currently anticipate selling shares directly to the Company under the Shareholder Return Program, but DT has reserved the right to sell shares of the Company’s common stock through one or more customary 10b5-1 plans any time after January 1, 2024.

Share repurchases and any dividends declared by the Board and paid from time to time are expected to be made from available cash on hand and proceeds of one or more debt issuances or other borrowings, based on the Company’s evaluation of market conditions and other factors. For the avoidance of doubt, the Shareholder Return Program is in addition to the Company’s previously announced $14.0 billion share repurchase program that the Board authorized in September 2022.

Under the Shareholder Return Program, share repurchases can be made from time to time using a variety of methods, which may include open market purchases, 10b5-1 plans, accelerated share repurchases, privately negotiated transactions or otherwise, all in accordance with the rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission and other applicable legal requirements. The specific timing and amount of any share repurchases, and the specific timing and amount of any dividend payments, under the Shareholder Return Program will depend on prevailing share prices, general economic and market conditions, Company performance, and other considerations. In addition, the specific timing and amount of any dividend payments are subject to being declared on future dates by the Board in its sole discretion. The Shareholder Return Program does not obligate the Company to acquire any particular amount of common stock or to declare and pay any particular amount of dividends, and the Shareholder Return Program may be suspended or discontinued at any time at the Company’s discretion.
